Halliday Wine Companion, Mike Bennie - Sep 2026

95 POINTS

“About a quarter of the wine is whole-bunch (wild) ferment. This has some grip and pucker, a swagger of dark cherry fruitiness, a touch of blood orange, some alpine herb notes and licks of white pepper and salted licorice. The perfume is more stewed cherry, mint and cedar – straight up inviting and good. There’s a savoury sensibility to the wine overall, a compact nature, a refreshing finish. It feels a little grippy in tannin profile, but that delivers a refreshing feel, too. An elegance here.”

93 POINTS

“Vineyard planted – directly across the road – in 1987. It’s across the road but it’s lower in elevation. 24% whole bunches, 10% new oak. Cherry-plum flavours with layers of sweet spice and twig-like elements. Beautiful flavour profile; essence-of-pinot noir stuff. Orange rind, florals, some stewier elements, some brighter/sweeter notes too. All aligns well. Oak is there, just, but in the background and as a guide at most. Tannin is firm, dry and balanced. I couldn’t find that extra something to make we want to score it higher but I did like everything that I saw here.”
